

Program Learning Outcomes Agricultural and Environmental Education

1. Students will be able to teach others about concepts and issues in the agricultural and environmental sciences.
2. Students will be able to effectively communicate (orally and in writing) about agricultural and environmental science concepts and issues.
3. Students will be able to contribute to solving problems as team members, collaborators, and community organizers.
4. Students will be able to understand basic and advanced concepts in both the natural and social sciences.