

Program Learning Outcomes Linguistics

1. Express, assess, and defend analyses of linguistic data or societal concerns related to language use, with clarity and rigor in standard written academic English;
2. Effectively analyze the structure of languages, as manifested in their phonological, morphological, syntactic, and/or semantic systems; and
3. Effectively utilize a standard scientific research methodology appropriate to linguistic analysis.