

Program Learning Outcomes Philosophy

1. Employ analytical techniques to construct arguments that proceed via trustworthy inferences from plausible starting points. Though emphasis is on philosophical arguments, the techniques apply to all areas of argumentation.
2. Supplement their informal reasoning with an ability to employ formal techniques.
3. Communicate complex and abstract ideas clearly both orally and via written text.
4. Demonstrate knowledge of the motivations and problems for a wide variety of positions in historical and contemporary philosophy.